THURSDAY, APRIL 18, 1861.

CHICAGO VOLUNTEERS!

Last night the city was alive with volunteer meetings. The coolest resolution, coupled with the most stirring enthusiasm, marked all the gatherings. Between fifteen and sixteen hundred men are already on the muster rolls.

To-night there will be a general rendezvous at Bryan Hall for further enlistment, and to provide a fund for meeting the contingent expenses of the companies until the State shall make provision for the same. The meeting will probably have to adjourn to the street for room very early in the evening. The work must go on. Though Illinois has been drawn on for only six regiments, it is inevitable that the call will soon be doubled or trebled. There is no time for delay.

THE PROCLAMATION.

The President's Proclamation was promulged by telegraph that we print. It as we find it in the New York papers, to which it was correctly transmitted. It will be found in the second page, and the President's reply to the Virginia Commissioners, also. Read both.

GOD BLESS OUR NATIVE LAND.

God bless our native land!
Firm may she ever stand,
Through storm and night!
When the wild tempest rave,
Ruler of wind and wave,
Do Thou our country save,
By thy great might!

For her our prayer shall rise,
To God above the skies;
On him we wait.
Deep hear our nation's cry;
Be thou forever nigh;
May Freedom never die;
God save the State!

THE SWORD OF THE LORD AND OF GIDEON.

Since this contest between the North and South began, it has been the habit of the Southern press and of Southern speakers to answer to the Puritan foundations upon which New England rests, and which emigration has, in a modified form, made the basis of the States of the West. The day has come in which the value of these sneers are to be tested. Marston Moor and Naseby are much nearer in the future than they are in the past. Psalm singing to Puritan tunes has not yet gone by; nor is prayer to the Puritan's God out of fashion. The fire, the energy, the courage, the hardihood and single-mindedness which overthrew Prince Rupert and Fairfax, and chopped off the head of a tyrant, are qualities of the race that have been transmitted to the generation of to-day. Old Abe will not prove another Old Noll; but let the chivalry look out for his Roundheads when they come. The men who have been taught the blessings of Freedom by long enjoyment of it, of Law by its ample protection, and of Religion, even of nasal, psalm-singing sort, by its joyful consolations, are not the men to be turned back by the bluster and vaunting that come up to us from the South. Patient and slow to anger, money-loving and farreaching, the Yankees may be; but woe to the enemy that stands before their awakened Conscience, Patriotism and Love of God. The animal courage which loves the excitement of a fight, the sense of honor, which bids men keep their faces to the foe, are nothing when opposed to the legions whom a great faith impels. The war is for a Republic established, not for a Commonwealth to be founded; but the Puritan blood will tell. Let the churches send out the praying men, and we will answer with our lives for the excellence of the fighting!

THE OLD FIRE.

Who can doubt that the old fire of the old Revolution still burns in the hearts of the people? From Maine to Minnesota, the sons of '76 are rising as one man, with a prayer to the God of battles on their lips, and a clear eye on the barrels of their rifles. The changers of money have forgotten their calling, and opened their coffers to the call of their country's need. The bulls and bears of Wall street have ceased worrying each other, and all fallen to worrying the enemies of their flag. Political parties have vanished in the twinkling of an eye. Miracles are wrought every hour, and yet we have ceased to be astonished. Pro patria is on every lip. The Stars and Stripes float on every corner, and in every eye. The hatred of treason burns deep in every heart. America is safe in the hands of her mighty people. Thank God for giving us a Constitution and a government which makes such MEN!

The traitors and ingrates have sneered their last at the Puritans. They have called us psalm-singing cowards the last time for one century. They have sworn that a Yankee would sell his soul twenty times for twenty dollars—they swear it no more. They have boasted their ability to drive us, one man for five, on any field, in any kind of fight. They boast it no more forever. They are now going to meet the despised and insulted Northerners where blood will flow, and blood will tell. Let us see who will be the last in putting the harness off. History shows not the page where the hated Puritans turned their backs on the foe. It is recorded of them that they always rejoiced greatly when they beheld the enemy. It is recorded that they cleared England of traitors and the Netherlands of Spaniards. It is recorded that they delivered New England and New York of red-coats, and sent a Rhode Island blacksmith to deliver South Carolina of tories. It is recorded that they fear God, but fear no man—that they undure much for the sake of peace and good will towards all the world, but that when their minds are made up, their prayers offered to the Almighty and their enemies shown them in battle array, like giants of old they crush everything in their path. Through what discouragements, and against what odds, they conquered in Kansas we need not tell. We need not recall these things; they are patent to all the world. It only remains for the Puritan blood to tell. Let the churches send out the praying men, and let the fighting men be ready. Let the Sword of the Lord and of Gideon be the watchword of the hour, and we will answer with our lives for the excellence of the fighting!

PERSONAL.

Among the non-commissioned officers in the Federal forces, which have just returned from Texas to New York, is Sergeant Mills, who enlisted in 1808, and has followed the flag ever since. He was at the battle of New Orleans, under Jackson; at Tippecanoe under Gen. Harrison, and the storming of Chapultepec, under Gen. Taylor. He was very indignant at the treason of Gen. Twiggs, and as his eye fired with enthusiasm, he replied, "Thank God, not a man would follow his fortunes in his treason."

—Mr. George Ricketson of New Bedford, Mass., lately returned from Charleston, where he had been employed in the cutter Aiken, which was stolen from the United States. He left because requested to enlist for a year. Most of the soldiers in that city, he says, are mechanics and foreigners.

—Postmaster-General Blair sent special agent Bryant to Pensacola last week to reestablish the Post-office there. Bryant stopped at Montgomery on his way, where Confederate States Postmaster Reagan forbade him to distribute his letters, but failed to give any reason therefor.

—One Powell, a clerk in the Sixth Auditor's office, and an officer in the District Militia, who last week took the oath to support the Government, stated publicly on the street that if Maryland should secede he would go with her. He will probably lose both his office and commission. No mercy henceforth will be shown to Disunionists in the public employ.

—The war sentiment in Washington has not saved many Secessionists who hold public office, and who could not conceal their joy at the reduction of Fort Sumter. Several fights have occurred, and decided knock downs have been given, among others, has knocked down a couple of Secessionists within the last day or two. The fact is, Northern men have got tired of hearing treason commend cowardly acts of violence, and the hearing to resent it in the only argument that chivalry

MISCELLANEOUS.

A BIG PURSE.—The Mobile Tribune says: "We learn that a purse of $100,000 has been raised in that city for the benefit of Mobile's first slipper, which will be given to the first member of the 'Mississippi Rifles' who puts his foot on Fort Pickens in time of war."

—If Fort Sumter must necessarily be garrisoned, we should like to see the present garrison removed and Wm. Lloyd Garrison substituted.—Pendleton.

—Corn is worth two dollars a bushel in San Antonio, Texas, and flour thirteen dollars a barrel. This is some of the bitter fruits of secession.

—The Southern Confederacy borrows money on very excellent terms. "What did you give for that horse, neighbor?" "My note." "Well, that was cheap."—Louisville Journal.

—An exchange says, "the schemes of our Southern brethren are only visionary." If he could see the corn-sacks going through this way, he would think they were decided provisionary.—Nashville Banner.

—We learn of Southern bank officials in town for the purpose of opening special accounts for their banks. Reported forced loans. It is said, have alarmed Southern banks, and New York is deemed safer than their home offices.—N. Y. Express.

—The truth about the trade of the Southern cities leaks out in spite of them. In the weekly tables of the Savannah Republican we find that the number of vessels loading for foreign ports is 105, against 186 for the corresponding week last year.

—The Cotton States' Provisional Government is limited to one year as the term of existence. If the border states act wisely and justly, we can see no way to avoid forming as a cotton States' government of any sort will be needed.—Louisville Journal.

—The Washington States alleges that there is trouble in the Bridge Street Methodist Church, in Georgetown, in consequence of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Boocock, having invoked the President and the President of the United States in Confederacy in his prayers for our own Chief Magistrate. Some of his congregation thought that there was no special need of him to go out of his way to the extent, and the upshot of the matter has been the acceptance by the church of Boocock's resignation.

SAWDUST.—A correspondent of the American Farmer recommends sawdust for bedding horses in winter. He thinks it very injurious to use saw-dust mixed with manure, around fruit trees, as it will infest and ruin the trees by supplying them with the wood worm, so very abundant in saw dust.

NOT ON A "WAR FOOTING."—The Goshen (Ind.) Democrat gives the following statement of the military status of Elkhart county:

20 old flint-lock muskets—breech-loading.
30 ramrods.
40 cartridge boxes.
4 umbrellas.
2,000 pocket pistols.

The muskets are very old, and entirely unfit for service; the pocket pistols are perfect, with the exception of corps.

A SPLENDID "REINFORCEMENT."—FOUR CHILDREN AT A BIRTH.—The Fairfield (Iowa) Ledger says Mrs. Caleb Pickett, who lives near Pleasant Plain, Jefferson county, was delivered of four children on the 4th inst.—two boys and two girls. The aggregate weight of the little ones is sixteen pounds! That beats Mrs. Galton of Monroe township in this county, but one! These ladies are certainly following out the scriptural injunction to "increase and multiply."

—Prentice has issued the following in his paper:

Our dispatches say Wigfall is "serving as a common soldier" in the confederate army at Charleston, for the want of his level best at last; he made a very common Senator, made whisky his common drink, and will not relish any deprivation of his favorite beverage if put upon short commons.

An Alabama paper boasts that the secession lists have put up not less than five thousand flags in that State. The abolitionists secessionists must have flagged tremendously.

A well-meaning paper in the interior says that the people of the North are all our brethren. If that's so we have got some very mean relatives.

—A proposition having been made to impose a duty of 40 per cent. on northern newspapers, and $5 per number on magazines, the Mobile Register seconds the motion. It says:

"Of course, such a measure, demanded by so many obvious and imperative reasons, will create a great outcry about a "tax on knowledge" and all that stuff. Our people, however, will probably think that they have had quite enough of that sort of knowledge which is derived from most of the Northern periodical publications."

—Hon. Judah P. Benjamin, attorney general of the Confederate States, has written a long opinion to show that oranges and lemons are not subject to duty, but that peanuts are. He found that a hard nut to crack.

—Marriages at Gretna Green are no longer legal, except after fourteen days' residence in the parish, which will give time for pursuit of runaways.

—At a recent trial in England, growing out of the Wakefield bribery cases, it was proved that many respectable tradesmen received sums varying from $50 to $500 for voting for members of Parliament.

—The Massachusetts House, by a vote of 146 to 35, have established a one year for the two years' naturalization amendment, adopted during the American furore of 1855.

—Granting divorces has been a great business with the Washington Territorial Legislature. One divorce bill passed the Council, and the woman married again before it passed the House.

—The Postmaster-General has decided the question of the New York Post Office site. The site of the Middle Dutch Church in Nassau street, the present location of the Post Office, is to be retained.

—All the communions in Poland are uniting in one patriotic reeling; the Jews have offered to the Churches of Warsaw magnificent silver crucifixes, and the Catholics have presented the synagogues with ornaments used in the Jewish rites.

—Mrs. Brough, the Prince of Wales' nurse, who murdered several of her children at Esher some six years ago, died the other day at Bethlehem Hospital, where she has been confined ever since her trial. It is remembered that this wretched woman was acquitted on the ground of insanity.

—Various Southern' railroads are making preparations to run excursion trains to Charleston to allow the people an opportunity to visit Fort Sumter after it has been evacuated.

—A fresh water spring has been discovered at sea, about eight miles off Cape Ann, Massachusetts Bay, which bolts up with such force as to be seen two miles off, and has generally been mistaken for a breaker. It is pure water, and ships about there prepare themselves from it by throwing over a bucket.

—Misfortunes never come singly. Capt. Colbath, of the schooner Blaite, lost on Saturday last, at Selinate, Ohio, a most unlikely unfortunate. He has recently lost his wife and also his dwelling by fire. He now loses his three children, bright, pretty boys, and his vessel. Two of the boys, eleven and twelve years of age, died in the Captain's arms of cold and exhaustion. The other, eighteen months old, was drowned when the wreck separated.

SOURCE OF THE "NORTHERN LIGHTS."—Oil has been discovered at Aurora, N. Y., and the fact has caused considerable excitement. This must be the source of the "Aurora Borealis."

Perils of the Sea.

We have already announced the loss of the ship Hamilton, from Liverpool to New York, and the loss of fifty-five persons:

A correspondent of the Cork Examiner gives some additional details of this terrible occurrence. He says:

"When the master saw that there was no chance of saving her, as the water was almost up to the main deck, he ordered two life-boats to be launched overboard, but, unfortunately they were not provided alongside. After one of the life-boats had been launched, the cook and a seaman got into her.

The cook got on the keel and clung to her until they were out of sight, as the rope had been cut and she let adrift through the confusion that existed on board. The longboat was then launched, and by hard exertions the captain and fourteen men, including four passengers, got into her (one of these, named Dogherty, gave a jump of about thirty feet out from the ship down to the boat, and was cast breaking his limbs,) and abandoned her, and having to leave the roof of the tower and passengers to their fate. As they were getting on board the boat, a very interesting incident occurred.

A fine young fellow, named Edward Talbot, a native of Carlow, was courting a Scotch

WAR TIMES AND WAR NEWS.

The Volunteer Movement in Chicago.

A STIR IN THE ARMORIES AND DRILL ROOMS.

Military Meetings Last Evening.

In another column of this issue will be seen declared in an unmistakable and official manner, the change that has come over our community since it has become known that the Government is endangered, and calls for men and arms. And yet, nothing that can be written will do entire justice to the state of activity and preparation prevailing here and daily on the increase. Men are talking less, there is less out of door excitement, but there is an under current of thought and action setting strongly in the direction long-actively and instinctively demanded, a war footing. Our reporters visited several Armories last evening and found them filled with a new and busy life. There were several hundred volunteers yesterday, in the aggregate of enrollments at the different armories, and especially, in existence, or forming.

CHICAGO L. I. ARTILLERY.

The Chicago Light Artillery, Col. Ezra Taylor had an enthusiastic meeting at their Armory, in the Armory building. This Company bats for several years past kept themselves in the highest condition as a military organization. Their commodious hall, attached to their armory is a neat and even handsome apartment, with pictures, a well chosen Library, and it has been well maintained, exercising an elevating influence on the corps. It is doubtful if any Volunteer Light Artillery Company in the country exceeds them in discipline and drill.

At their meeting last evening the first business was to elect officers to fill vacancies. Their officers are as follows:

Col. Ezra Taylor, Commander.
C. P. Bradley, 1st Lieutenant.
Darius Knisbie, 2d "
C. A. Ward, 3d "
J. K. Botsford, 1st Sergeant.
E. D. Orband, 2d "
Jas. Terry, 3d "
F. Winslow, 4th "

This company have a battery of four brass field pieces and two howitzers, all in fine order. They also have what they shall be mustered into service at once for the defence of Washington, under commission from the president. To carry out this object, Mr. Peck, one of their number, was to leave for Washington last night, with authority to tender their services.

There is to be a called meeting on Friday to enroll volunteers and elect from those whose names have been presented. For a peace footing the company requires 100 men, for a war footing 150 men. They have now about forty men, and are to elect forty more to night. Within ten days, from present appearances, their roll will be full of picked men, comprising men of worth and standing in community. Their arms, with the equipments now on the way, will place them on a war footing, and they are in high hopes that when to do with their pieces. Their drill has been highly praised by army officers on several occasions.

WASHINGTON INDEP. REGT NO. 1.

Elsewhere we publish a call to the officers of the Washington Independent Regiment, No. 1; comprising the Highland Guards, Washington Light Cavalry, Washington Rifles, Chicago Grenadiers, Lincoln Rifles, Union Rifles and Illinois Rifles, Col. Thomas Shirley commanding. This Regiment is substantially filled up, and have tendered their services unanimously to the Governor. It will be a Light Infantry Regiment, using the Minnie rifle, and will make up a tender of one thousand men, ready to march within a short time, on the requisition of the Governor. A most extraordinary activity prevails among these corps, several of which are made up of Irish, Scotch and German citizens. They will not make soldiering merely a pastime, but are going in, in earnest, pledged to a man to sustain the Government.

The Highland Guards' Armory Drill, last evening was fully attended, and members of volunteers enrolled. The greatest enthusiasm prevails in the Ross corps. They were addressed last evening by several speakers, Messrs. J. F. Richards, O. Gross, and Meech.

THE CHICAGO DRAGOONS.

We take up the Companies in the chance order of our notes. The formal tender has been made to Captain Charles K. Barker of his command of the Chicago Dragoons, which are to be filled to the number of 120 men, should the tender be accepted, of which there is no doubt. The men will be carefully picked, and there is already a movement among our citizens to add to the equipment as a crack cavalry corps, worthy the command of one of the finest Dragoon Officers in the West. Captain Barker returns from Springfield to-day, and the enrolment will go on rapidly, the drilling to commence at once.

THE ZOUAVES.

The nightly drills of the Zouaves under Captain Hayden are being vigorously maintained, with a large attendance of spectators at their armory in Garrett Block. They only wait the arrival of Col. Ellsworth, their old commander, to enroll from names already offered a Zouave Regiment of three hundred strong. A movement is on foot, started by private citizens, to uniform and equip the Zouaves by private subscription. A wealthy well known citizen heads the list with one thousand dollars. Any one who watches for an hour the drill of the young men, now shorn of some of its fancy movements in their new uniform, can tell that they will be a good account of themselves when called on. Many of them are sons of our best citizens, and whose parents are bidding them God speed in serving their country.

VOLUNTEER MEETING AT THE TREMONT.

Pursuant to a call numerously signed, there was a meeting at Parlor No. 1, Tremont House, last evening, at which A. S. Chadbourne was appointed chairman, and G. H. Thayer, Secretary. The following resolution passed, gives the sentiment of the meeting:

Resolved, That we do pledge to form ourselves into a volunteer military company to aid in the defence of our country.

This has received very many signatures. It is rumored that they enrol themselves with the Zouave Regiment above named.

VOLUNTEERS MEETING AT BRYANT & STRATTON'S HALL.

It will be remembered that the Young Men's meeting at Metropolitan Hall some week's since adjourned to meet again at the call of their committee. Their former meeting had the ring of the true metal, and it was handsomely followed up—its pledges fully met by the meeting at Bryant & Stratton's Hall last evening.

Several hundred of our young men were present, comprising those in professional and mercantile life. The meeting was most enthusiastic, and entirely in earnest. H. H. Hasff, Esq., was called to the chair, and T. W. Buell, Esq., was appointed Secretary. A number of speeches of the right kind were made, after which a Committee was appointed to draft a Muster Roll. No sooner was this brought in than it was surrounded by those eager to sign. Fifty names were added to it in the shortest time of this time, after which the meeting adjourned to meet at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, on the southeast corner of Clark and Monroe streets. The muster roll will be left at the office of H. H. Hasff Esq., No. 151 Randolph street. Hon. N. B. Judd has tendered the Company free use for Armory purposes, of a hall in his new block on the corner of Monroe and South Clark street, where they are to meet this evening. The following is the

MUSTER ROLL.

Chicago, April 17, 1861.

We the undersigned, citizens of the United States, above the age of eighteen years, do hereby tender our services to the Governor of Illinois, as volunteers under the proclamation of the President of the United States, to maintain our Government, uphold our Constitution, and defend our flag, with our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor, hereby pledging ourselves to march immediately at the order of our Governor, or at any time when we may be so united.

OTHER MOVEMENTS AND MENTIONS.

Our well known citizen, Fred Hardin, left last night for Springfield, to tender to the Executive a company of one hundred men. F. Canty, an old Mexican volunteer, is enrolling a company of Western boys, and men who have seen service, who will speak for themselves when called on.

It is still conceded to be well to muster into the U. S. Army all members or volunteers now enrolled. There is such a feeling of confidence in the Government, that it is thought that the mere fact of a company being mustered into the service will be a guarantee that they will be called on. Many of them are willing to go at once, and to leave their families to get on as they can. Many of them have left upon the sidewalk while the guard was being mounted, the manual of arms gone through, and down went the steamer Sheridan for fuel. It will not get out without one.

The New Bremen Free Democrat says two new steamers from the Armstrong Works, Manchester N. H., reached Saturday packet. They are of the same size and style of the Sheridan. Officers say that they have cylinder pumps. They are called "Liberty" and "Economy" in bright brass letters, and the first time that a steamer has been made of these very words in Chicago. They are each supplied with elegant hexagonal signal lamps in red, white and blue glass. The "Liberty" was taken direct from the ears to the foot of Washington street, on the river, and there fired up. She made steam in 9 minutes and 40 seconds, and did good execution through 200, and later through 300 feet of hose.

BOY LOST.—A boy about four years old, whose parents reside at 277 South Wells street, has been missing during Tuesday afternoon. He was dressed in a white and blue striped jacket, dark pantaloons, shoes, and short curled legs, and a cap with a hole burned in the top. His light complexion, very light hair, grayish eyes. His name is Charles Buck. Any information as to his whereabouts will be gratefully received by his parents. He may be left at either of the police station houses, or at above with his father, Charles Buck.

CONFINED.—Owing to the illness of Walter F. Chadwick, indicted conjointly with Bissell, the alleged Rock Island Bridge conspirator, the trial of that case, set down for Wednesday, was postponed to this morning.

SHERMAN'S BATTERY.—The second detachment of Fort Ridgely U. S. troops, comprising Capt. Sherman's Battery will pass through this evening. A large crowd were disappointed in its non-arrival last night.

5,000 HIDES WANTED,

MONETARY.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, April 17, 1861.

It is almost impossible, to present the precise condition of the money market of this city. Under stagnation, reigns to every extent, and every question of meeting demandable engagements, and [illegible] the continued decline of stocks, it begins to be feared that we shall soon have no money of any kind. The country was long since drained of it, and it is plain that if the present rate ruling [illegible] With stocks are to be [illegible] the [illegible] of stocks, there is very little of any of our currency worth over 90 cents. The question absorbing all others, therefore, is shall the bankers and the business public relieve everything to an actual specie standard, varying the rate of exchange on Eastern points, say, according to the fluctuations of the New York stock board; or shall those not now in the rejected list, relying on the ultimate and the intrinsic value of their securities, be continued as currency had, as in 1857 and many times since, pass from hand to hand as currency in the payment of debts and the transaction of business.

Our bankers have, with almost entire unanimity, determined to adopt said options to the opposite poll y. We are permitted to publish the following letter sent by one of our leading houses, this afternoon to their correspondents:

An attempt is being made or one of our institutions to discredit an additional number of Illinois Banks; this attempt, as [illegible] is to be [illegible] encountered not only by the leading Banks and Bankers of this city, but by every friend of the Banking system of the country, and the entire public press.

We, with others, are of the opinion that the amount of currency now in circulation, is hardly adequate to the wants of commerce; that the price of all articles in trade should be [illegible] and that all [illegible] in trade should be [illegible] That it is unjust to make no marked a discrimination in favor of Banks which have suspended, in favor of a general war, which seems inevitable, above the list of Southern stocks at the New York Exchange; and that the [illegible] to the property of the Banks and Bankers would be disastrous to the commerce not only of our city but of the whole country.

The following Illinois Banks and others, are thrown out by the Metropolitan Bank, Bankers & Brokers Reporter, Bankers' Magazine, and all other Eastern Marine and Fire Insurance Co., H. A. Tucker & Co., E. Tillotson & Co., Albro & Norton, Bankers, and all other Illinois Banks are taken at par as currency.

Our currency is bad enough in all conscience. We protested against its increase long and long, and told the people that the crash must come. No one can regret more than we do that our warnings and fears are more than realized. Illinois and Wisconsin are to be the chief sufferers by the fall in stocks, and there is
